Julie Thompson is the linchpin that connects strategy to execution.

She bridges the gap between desired outcomes and what is needed to achieve them. A people-focused leader, Julie spearheads all executive search and recruiting projects on behalf of clients, and executes many aspects of Accendo's client engagements in the areas of strategy, program development, communications, operations/project management, and curriculum development.

Throughout her career, Julie has focused on helping companies build corporate cultures that improve performance, retention, and employee satisfaction. She excels at building processes that support strategic initiatives and bring together the operational, developmental, and creative capital needed to execute the strategy.

At Accendo, Julie partners with clients in the following ways:

- Recruitment and Executive Search
- Project Management
- Strategic Planning and Execution
- Organizational Alignment
- Curriculum Development
- Organizational and Cultural Assessment
- Writing and Communications
